HEALTHCARE is at a turning point.

Rising complexity, technological innovation and societal change are driving the need for new ways of thinking across sectors, disciplines and systems. MEDICA 2026 brings these perspectives together.

Through curated stages and formats, it creates a space where current challenges are put into context, concrete solutions are discussed and the future of healthcare is redefined.

From digital transformation and resilient systems to integrated care models, MEDICA's content connects innovation with implementation and is designed for those shaping the future of healthcare.
